AT a recent menting of the Shanghai Literary and Debating Society & rather interesting discussion took place with 76gard to the chit spaten. appoint of the chit declared the disinclusion of young men to enter the bonds of matrimuny is due to the system of patting one's name on a piece of paper for everything one purchases, instead of puting down the cash at once. the chit has indeed a great deal to answer for But why the ohis should be so fatal to matrimony is not very svident. The question why the young men do not marry is being hazed in many places now-a days where chits are not. A joung man, fearing to get involved in debt for faculties and other household expenses, as no sees his friends do, abelains from taking unto himself a wife until his Will invite attention to the following meins are such as to produce the new Brands, all of which are excellent assists of significant familiars dealers. cently of signing chits to farniture dealers. That is the contention of the anti-chitists, but it seems hardly sufficient to support this serious allegation and the phit. ther way There may be young men who are tash enough to get married ou the chit system; there cartainly are those who are bold enough to do it on what is known as the three years system, but we should imagine the general opinion would for them to wait until they could carry out the transaction on a cash basis. And if the chib system has a tendency to delay the important event until it can be put through on that footing although we don't quite see how it has that effect either-it can hardly be called an wine, Green Capule 6 0.60 enl result of the system. No : the chit his evidently been maligned in this matter, 7.50 0.75 and perhaps the strongest evidence of this that could be saddered in found in the fact that while the majority of the gentlemen present during the discussion voted in fayour of the abolition of the chit, the ladies voted unanimously for is continuance, and completely swamped the other sex-This result apparently made so deep an impression on an anti-chilet that he 1.25 wrote to one of the newspapers in the following terms :- One of the arguments Pints. brought forward in invoor of discontinuing thits was that the system prevented young 7.50 ment to reckless extravagance in household natters. I dd not see the force of this argument at the beginning, but when I saw the ladies voting in favour of chits I quite understood in I had intended entering Case. Per Bot. the hely state myself unhesitatingly, but I will now pause until I have accertained the views of the maiden fair on the chit system. 1.40 Where are now the thrifty honsewives we have read of? This was an attempt to put an entirely new, though very, ingenions, construction on the auti-matri-2.50 monial argument, and it must be admitted that it procents the chit question in a 8 0.75 somewhat startling aspect.

THE Shanghal Maninipal Council do not seem to look with a great deal of delight on the offer of Mr Chang Su-ho to allow 8 0.75 foreigners to use his extensive gardens and grounds for moreative purpoles. Mr Chang Bu he wished that one policeman should be stationed on the promises, to keep order, auch policeman to be paid by and to be 1.10 under the sole orders of the Municipal authorities ? the Council declined to supply a 0.75 policeman, but stated that should Mr Chang Su-bu desire to engage the services of a special constable and pay for him they 1.10 would instruct the Captain Superintendent of Police to arrange the matter. The N.C. Daily News, commenting on the matter cars. There may be reasons for the somewhat auguscious tone of that reply, but they are not apparent. Mr. 0.40 Chang offered what a shoot a park, within past walking distance of the settlement, where the bend might play occasionally in the summer for a change. As bown dwellors would probably make use of it, there could be no objection to the Council's pulting a policemen there, and it is not specified that it should be a foreign policeman .. We think the offer deserved more consideration that it seems to have received
